Dermatology Nursing:

"We don't save lives – we change lives" 2019

This conference was first delivered in 2018. This current program extends on the original content presented as well as incorporating new content not covered in the first program.

Dermatology is a huge field and, like any other speciality, requires clinicians to hold specific knowledge to provide the correct diagnosis and treatment options for the patient.

This Conference will explore the latest best practice clinical guidelines on the key concepts of Dermatology Nursing.

The content is as relevant to the Nurse working in a Dermatology practice as it is to the Nurse wanting to find out more about Dermatology to use in their general practice and patient education.

Conference Learning Outcomes

- Explore clinical aspects of dermatological conditions and the signs and symptoms commonly associated
- Investigate the treatment options available for the dermatological conditions discussed
- Examine the most common dermatological conditions that may present to your service
- Update your knowledge on the current best practice clinical guidelines

The Conference Online Library and Information Bank

We have established this Information Bank so that you have access to the most up to date information regarding the program for this Conference.

You will also have access to pre-reading and recorded webinar sessions to support Conference content prior to the commencement of the Conference program.

OUR PRESENTERS

Sharon Hudson

Sharon Hudson is a Registered Nurse with a passion for education, dermatology and clinical research. With past presidential roles in the Australian Dermatology Nurses Association and the International Skincare Nursing Group, she has an exceptional knowledge of clinical dermatology and the information required by Nurses who work within this speciality environment.

Sharon is currently working in dermatology as a clinician but also a Nurse Educator. She is in the process of authoring her first book on dermatology as well as creating a Dermatology Nursing course.

Sharon has a strong commitment to excellence in patient care and a love to inspire and teach her Nursing colleagues.
