NURSES
FOR NURSES

EDUCATION at SEA

The best time to witness the Northern Lights in Norway is from late September through early April, when the nights are long, dark, and ideal for aurora viewing. Peak activity is typically between 18:00 and 02:00, with the most spectacular displays often appearing around midnight.

While the heart of winter delivers the darkest skies, many seasoned travellers favour March and the shoulder months of September and October. Around the equinoxes, geomagnetic activity tends to be stronger, increasing the chances of vivid auroral displays.

These months also often bring more stable weather, clearer skies, and milder temperatures—making the experience far more comfortable as you stand beneath the Arctic heavens waiting for nature's greatest light show.

WHAT THIS CONFERENCE IS ABOUT

---

What it means to be a nurse today is not what it was five years ago, and it will not be the same five years from now.

This conference is built for that reality.

Set against one of the most striking journeys in the world, sailing from Hamburg through the Norwegian coastline and into the Arctic Circle, this is an opportunity to step out of the day-to-day and take a clear, honest look at where the profession is heading and what that means for your practice.

The program focuses on the issues nurses are dealing with not the polished version, but the real one. Workforce pressures are no longer background noise. They are shaping care delivery, influencing decision-making, and determining who stays in the profession and who leaves. Sessions will explore the realities of workload, moral distress, and retention, alongside practical discussions on leadership at the bedside and the evolving nature of nursing work.

At the same time, scope of practice is expanding in ways that are changing professional frontiers. Nurse prescribing, advanced practice roles, and working at top of scope are no longer future concepts. They are happening now, raising important questions about capability, accountability, and collaboration across disciplines.

Technology is also redefining care. Digital health, artificial intelligence, virtual care models, and remote monitoring are already embedded in many settings. This is not about whether these changes are coming, but how they are being used, where the risks sit, and what nurses need to understand to use them safely and effectively in practice.

Overlaying all of this is increasing patient complexity. Multi-morbidity across all age groups, the intersection of mental and physical health, and the ongoing impact of chronic disease are challenging traditional models of care. Nurses are managing more, with less, in systems that are still trying to catch up.

Beyond the clinical environment, broader forces are shaping health outcomes in ways that cannot be ignored. Social determinants of health, environmental change, resource allocation, and access to care are directly influencing who becomes unwell, how they present, and what care is possible. For Australian nurses, this includes the ongoing challenges of rural and remote practice and the persistent inequities experienced by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities.

Professional identity is also under pressure. Workplace culture, incivility, and the realities of maintaining boundaries in both physical and digital environments are part of everyday practice. This conference creates space for these conversations to be had in a way that is practical, grounded, and relevant.

This is not a conference built on idealised versions of nursing. It is built on the real work, the real challenges, and the real opportunities that sit in front of the profession right now. Combined with the experience of travelling through some of the most extraordinary landscapes in the world, this is a chance to step back, think clearly, and return to practice with a sharper understanding of what is changing and how to navigate it.

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

We invite nurses and healthcare professionals to submit abstracts for presentation at this unique conference. This conference is focused on the realities of modern nursing practice. We are seeking presentations that reflect current challenges, emerging trends, and practical insights relevant to nurses working across all clinical settings.

Submissions should move beyond theory and demonstrate clear relevance to practice. We are particularly interested in abstracts that address real-world experience, evidence-informed approaches, and innovations that are already influencing care delivery.

Who Should Submit

- Registered nurses across all clinical areas
- Nurse practitioners and advanced practice nurses
- Nurse educators and researchers
- Interdisciplinary professionals working closely with nursing teams

Why Present at This Conference

This is an opportunity to contribute to a program that reflects the real work of nursing and influence care delivery as a presenter, in a setting that allows time for both professional engagement and reflection.

Presenters will be part of a conference that brings together experienced clinicians to explore the future of nursing practice, while travelling through one of the most remarkable regions in the world.

Presenters will receive $200 off the conference registration fee for each one hour presentation and $100 off the registration fee for each 30-minute presentation.

Conference Themes to Consider

- 1. Workforce Reality: The Pressure Points in Practice
  - Burnout, attrition, unsafe workloads, and moral distress
  - Retention versus leaving the profession
  - Emerging workforce models: agency, casualisation, and flexibility
  - Leadership at the bedside and in complex environments
- 2. Scope of Practice: Redefining Nursing Roles
  - Nurse prescribing in the Australian context
  - Advanced practice and extended scope roles
  - Working at top of scope in constrained systems
  - Role substitution versus interdisciplinary collaboration
- 3. Digital Health, AI and Virtual Models of Care
  - Artificial intelligence in clinical decision-making
  - Telehealth as standard care delivery
  - Remote monitoring and virtual wards
  - Clinical risk, ethics, and governance in digital health
- 4. Patient Complexity and Changing Clinical Demand
  - Multi-morbidity across the lifespan
  - Chronic disease with acute deterioration
  - Intersection of mental and physical health
  - Clinical decision-making in increasingly complex presentations
- 5. Health Equity, Access and the Australian Context
  - Rural and remote healthcare delivery challenges
  - Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander health disparities
  - Access to care and geographic inequity
  - Resource allocation and service delivery constraints
- 6. Environment, Communities and Health
  - Environmental impacts on population health
  - Climate-related health challenges and emerging disease patterns
  - Food, water, and housing insecurity
  - Implications for nursing practice and care delivery
- 7. Professional Identity, Culture and Workplace Behaviour
  - Incivility, bullying, and workplace culture
  - Professional boundaries in clinical and digital environments
  - Accountability, professionalism, and public trust
  - What it means to be a nurse in contemporary practice
- 8. Social Determinants of Health
  - The impact of socioeconomic status on health outcomes
  - Education, employment, and community context
  - Health literacy and access to services
  - Integrating social determinants into everyday nursing care

LEARNING OUTCOMES

By the end of this Conference, participants will be able to:

1. Analyse the key factors shaping contemporary nursing practice, including workforce pressures, evolving scope of practice, and increasing patient complexity, and their impact on care delivery.
2. Evaluate the role of emerging models of care, including digital health, artificial intelligence, and virtual care, in supporting safe, effective, and accessible healthcare.
3. Examine the influence of social, environmental, and structural determinants on health outcomes, and their implications for nursing practice across diverse populations.
4. Reflect on professional identity, workplace culture, and leadership in nursing, to support safe practice, effective collaboration, and sustainable career engagement.

CPD RELEVANCE

Attendance at Navigating the Future of Nursing: Practice in a Changing World supports ongoing professional development by strengthening the knowledge, skills, and professional judgement required for contemporary nursing practice.

The conference addresses key issues currently influencing healthcare delivery, including workforce pressures, expanding scope of practice, increasing patient complexity, digital health, and the broader social and environmental determinants of health. These areas are directly relevant to the provision of safe, person-centred, and evidence-informed care.

Participation in this conference supports nurses to:

- Maintain and develop current knowledge relevant to their context of practice, consistent with Standard 1: Thinks critically and analyses nursing practice
- Apply evidence and emerging models of care, including digital health and advanced practice roles, in line with Standard 6: Provides safe, appropriate and responsive quality nursing practice
- Engage in reflective practice and consider the impact of professional behaviour, workplace culture, and leadership on care delivery, aligning with Standard 2: Engages in therapeutic and professional relationships
- Understand and respond to factors influencing health outcomes, including social, cultural, and environmental determinants, supporting Standard 3: Maintains the capability for practice and Standard 4: Comprehensively conducts assessments

The conference also aligns with the NMBA Code of Conduct for Nurses, particularly in relation to:

- Practising safely, effectively, and collaboratively within evolving healthcare systems
- Promoting health equity and culturally safe care
- Maintaining professional integrity, accountability, and lifelong learning

Engagement in this conference contributes to a nurse's responsibility to undertake continuing professional development that is relevant to their practice, enhances clinical capability, and supports the delivery of safe and effective care.

"To mix travel and a conference has made such a difference to me at a time when our health system is experiencing such difficult times. To escape for a while to learn & explore some of the world has made a significant positive difference emotionally and mentally."

– Vivienne, Iceland Cruise Conference

OUR PRESENTER

---

Sue Walker, RN, BN, BN (ADMIN), MPH (PALCARE), MACN, Specialist Nurse Educator

Sue is an Australian nurse educator, conference director and CPD specialist with extensive experience in clinical practice, leadership, education and public health.

She is the Director and Co-Founder of the Nurses for Nurses Network and a key contributor to Nursing CPD, where she helps deliver evidence-based education and professional development programs for nurses and midwives across Australia and internationally.

Sue holds qualifications in nursing, health administration and public health, along with postgraduate studies in gerontology, psychiatry of ageing, chemotherapy administration and training and assessment. Her career has included frontline nursing, senior management and education leadership.

At the heart of her work is a simple belief: nurses and midwives are not just the backbone of healthcare, they are critical decision-makers whose knowledge, judgement and advocacy directly influence patient outcomes and system safety. Sue's goal is to ensure nurses and midwives are supported and professionally empowered to meet the growing complexity of modern healthcare while sustaining long, fulfilling careers.

OUR CONVENOR

Jason Dawson

Jason is from the Gold Coast, Queensland. Whilst studying for his Bachelor of Nursing at Southern Cross University, he developed an interest in mental health and has worked in this field of nursing for many years since completing his studies in 2008. During this time, Jason has undertaken varied roles, including Acute Inpatient Nursing, Community Nursing, clinical facilitating and Nurse Unit Manager positions.

In 2012, Jason combined his passion for nursing with his love of travel and founded CPD Cruise Pty Ltd with the view to providing Nurses, Midwives, Allied Health Professionals and Teachers /Educators the opportunity to update and improve their skills in diverse and unique locations.

VENUE

MSC Preziosa

Elegant, modern, and designed for unforgettable travel experiences, MSC Preziosa combines Mediterranean style with world-class comfort. This sophisticated flagship offers spacious lounges, refined dining, premium wellness facilities, and outstanding entertainment, creating the perfect setting for both business and leisure at sea.

Guests can enjoy panoramic ocean views, stylish accommodations, and exceptional onboard amenities while sailing through some of Northern Europe's most spectacular destinations. With versatile meeting spaces and a welcoming atmosphere, MSC Preziosa is an ideal host for a memorable cruise conference experience.

HOW TO DRESS ON A CRUISE SHIP

Most cruise lines offer a casual atmosphere onboard. Casual attire is the norm during the day, and there is no formal dress code at night. However, many passengers choose to change into something slightly less casual for dinner.

At least once per sailing, during which passengers are encouraged to dress up. While you rarely see tuxedos or evening gowns, suits and cocktail dresses are quite common.

Additionally, ships usually host several themed nights, such as White Parties, '70s, or '80s Night, Hawaiian or even Mexican during each sailing. It's a good idea to bring along a few themed items.

NB: Closer to your sail date you will be able to see what the exact theme nights are being held via your cruise companies app.

REGISTRATION COSTS

---

Contact the Team at Education at Sea for a personalised quote.

General Registration: $1390.00

Non-practising Nurse: $290.00

We've realised that many past customers still want to travel with us. We have created a customer classification called non-practising Nurse.

It is for non-practising Nurses who want to travel with our group but no longer need CPD hours. They like to travel with like-minded people, people who get them because they have had similar experiences, and there is a shared connection that creates friendships quickly. Also, travelling as part of a group provides an extra level of support and safety.

The non-practising registration is only available for our cruise conferences, as the study tours are all-inclusive.

(NB: Registration cost doesn't include travel, accommodation, or travel insurance.)

INCLUSIONS

General registration includes:

- A comprehensive conference program based on current best practice and meets the same exacting standards as anything offered in an Australian land-based program
- Access to experienced presenters eager to share their skills, knowledge, and passion with attendees
- Welcome function with drinks (travelling companions welcome)
- Farewell function with drinks (travelling companions welcome)
- Conference pack including a bag, pen, and lanyard (plus lanyards for guests) (this is important on a cruise ship to attach your room key, which becomes your lifeline on a ship) and additional information to support a fantastic conference experience
- Access to an online conference library with educational content, allowing you to complete pre-conference learning activities and tailor your own learning experience
- A conference transcript outlining each session, including session synopses and presenter details
- The opportunity to meet as a group in various conference open forums, in one of the many fabulous locations on the ship
- A Certificate of Completion for you to include in your CPD Portfolio

Non-practising nurse registration includes:

- Inclusion in the Education at Sea / Nurses for Nurses travel group
- Welcome drinks on the first night at the registration function for you and your travelling companion
- Conference pack including a bag, pen, and lanyard (plus lanyards for guests)
- Access to any networking events held onboard
- Opportunity to book shore tours, including hospital visits
- Ability to attend a maximum of five conference sessions that pique your interest – you may not need CPD points, but you could still be interested in various health related topics
- Farewell function on the final night for you and your travelling companion
- Subscription to newsletters to stay informed about future travel events

Additional Information:

- There is no additional charge for your travelling companion

INSURANCE

The Nurses for Nurses Network and Education at Sea strongly recommends customers take out travel insurance at the time of registration for an event to cover any unforeseen circumstances that may prevent them attending and thus incurring any financial loss.
